8:30 AM - Open registration and complimentary continental breakfast.

9 AM – 11 AM

- A1 - The Art of Encouragement, by Timothy Evans, PhD, LMFT, and Geri Carter, MA, LMHC
Now more than ever we need a new tradition for improving and maintaining healthy relationships. Encouragement is desperately needed today since fear, power, and the threat of punishment are no longer effective. Encouragement is made to order for developing cooperative relationships at home, school, and work. Will focus on encouraging self and others.
- A2 - Courageous Conversations about Coupledness by Anne Geroux, PhD,
Never have we invested more in love yet ended up in a failed relationship. Today couples have to talk about things they never had to in the past: they are faced with having to manage the paradox of love and desire. This workshop will explore how to build healthier, stronger couple relationships, and navigate helpful conversations.

11:15 AM – 1:15 PM

- B1- Opposite of Addiction by Emalee Gabriel MA, Registered MFT Candidate
Today the potential for addictions to affect families is very high. Traditional treatment says the cure for addiction is abstinence, however the new approach is quite the opposite. Participants will learn new strategies to help those with addictions by utilizing connection strategies.
- B2- Raising Responsible Children at Home and School by Detrial Williams, MS, Registered MFT Candidate
Rewards and Punishment don't work. Participants will discover their parenting style and will learn a more democratic method of parenting, and how to be a more equal match to their children.

1:15 PM – 2:30 PM Later Lunch on Your Own

2:30 PM – 4:30 PM

- C1 If I'm So Wonderful, Why Am I Still Single? by Timothy Evans PhD, LMFT, and Geri Carter, MA, LMHC
This workshop will explore Adler's task of intimacy. The challenges of meeting someone, compatibility, and "what is this thing called love?", along with physical and intellectual attraction, suitable psychological factors and gender issues will be presented.
- C2 Understanding Yourself and Others by Nicola Haddak, MA, LMHC
Have you every wondered what makes you tick? This workshop will demonstrate using early recollections and lifestyle priority to understand self and others. We will explore lifestyle and strengths as a means to move from a position of a felt minus to a felt plus.

4:30 PM - 5:30 PM Encouragement Exchange: A panel discussion with all presenters.
Enjoy food, libations and be a part of a lively discussion with conference presenters and participants .
